1 ECCE CHORUS (Behold the maiden chorus)

Ecce, chorus virginum, tempore vernali, dum solis incendium radios equali moderatur ordine, iubilo semoto fronde pauca tilie Cypridis in voto!

Cypridis in voto!
Fronde pauca tilie
Cypridis in voto!

In hac valle florida floreus, fragratus, intra septa lilia locus purpuratus.
Dum garritus merule dulciter alludit.
Philomena carmine dulcia concludit.

Cypridis in voto!

Acies virginea redimita flore; quis enerret talia, quantoque decore prenitent ad libitum Veneris occulta!
Dido necis meritum proferat inulta.

Cypridis in voto!

2 MUSA VENIT CARMINE (The muse comes singing)

Musa venit carmine, dulci modulamine: pariter cantemus, ecce virent omnia, prata, rus et nemus, mane garrit alaudula, lupilulat cornicula, iubente natura philomena queritur antiqua de iactura.

Hirundo iam finsat, cignus dulce trinsat memorando fata, cuculat et cuculus per nemora vernata.

Pulchre canunt volucres. Nitet terre facies vario colore,
et in partum solvitur redolens odore.

Late pandit tilia, frondes, ramos, folia, thymus est sub ea,
viridi cum gramine, in quo fit chorea.

Patet et in gramine iocundo rivus murmure.
Locus est festivus, ventus cum temperie susurrat tempestivus.

In Springtime the maidens dance, with Aprils light their guide. Give pause to your piping. Let us with Linden branches give alms to beau-tys altar.

Let us with linden branches give alms to beautys altar!

There is a florid and sweet smelling path in this bright valley where one can hear the chirping of birds and see the lilies bloom.

Let us

With flower spangled garments the maidens come to join us. Let us forget the sorrows of the past and happily discover the secrets that love might have in store.

Let us

With a song, the young singer comes to us. Let us all sing together, and enjoy the beautiful wooded forest where the lark and rook still chant their plaintive song.

The cuckoo beckons us from his wooded hill, as the swallow chirps her tune and the swans remember sorrows past.

Sweetly sing the birds as the earth shines forth its varied colors and the air is fragrant over all.

Full grows the foliage under our feet; colored with newness. Water murmurs past the dancers on the green.

Oh how festive is this place! Softly blows the wind of Spring gracefully through this open space.

3 AMOR IMPROBUS (Deceitful love)

Nobilis, mei miserere precor, tua facies ensis est quo necor, nam medullitus amat meum te cor, subveni!

Noble one, I beg thee take pity on me. I have loved thee from the depths of my heart, yet, by thy glance, sharp as a sword, am I slain.
Save me!

Amor improbus
omnia superat,
subveni!

Come sperulas tue eliciunt cordi sedulas, flamas adjiciunt, hebet animus, vires deficiunt:
subveni!

Amor improbus

Odor roseus spirat a labiis; speciosior pre cunctis filiis, melle dulcior, pulchrior liliis,
subveni!

Amor improbus

Decor prevalet candori etheris; ad pretorium presentor Veneris;
ecce pereo, si non subveneris;

Amor improbus

Love the deceitful one,
Love the all-ruling one,
Save me!

Like tangled hair has my heart become. My very soul doth weaken.
The flame leaps up to take my strength, and all from me is flowing. Save me!

Love the deceitful one

Thy lips do breathe the scent of roses. Lovelier art thou than all others: whiter than the lilly, and sweeter than honey. Save me!

Love the deceitful one

Behold, I shall perish if thou dost not come to me as I await thee at the temple of Venus. Save me!

Love the deceitful one

4 GAUDE VALLIS INSIGNITA (Unique and joyous valley)

Gaude vallis insignita, vallis rosis redimita, vallis flos convallium, inter valles vallis una, quam collaudat sol et luna, dulcis cantus avium, quam collaudat philomena. Nam quam dulcis et amena mestis dans solatium!

O thou valley, framed with roses ever blooming, ever climbing; may thy happiness never vanish. Thou art the fairest valley of valleys.
See how softly the sun falls upon thee, and gently also the moon.
O thou valley, may the sad of heart find consolation in thy beauty.

5 ANDECAVIS ABBAS (The abbot of Angers)

Andecavis abbas esse dicitur ille nomen primi tenet hominum; hunc fatentur vinum vellet bibere super omnes Andecavis homines.

Eia, eia, eia laudes
Eia laudes dicamus Libero.

Iste malet vinum omne tempore quem nec dies nox nec ulla preterit quod non vino saturatus titubet, velut arbor agitata flatibus.

Eia, eia, eia laudes

Iste gerit corpus imputribile vinum totum conditum ut alove et ut mire corium conficitur cutis eius nunc cum vino tingitur.

Eia, eia, eia laudes

Ista cupa non curat calicem vinum bonum bibere suaviter, sed patellis atque magnis cacabis et in eis ultra modum grandibus.

Eia, eia, eia laudes

Hunc perperdit Andecavis civitas, nullum talen utrra sibi sociat, qui sic semper vinum possit sorbere; cuius facta, cives, vobis pingite!

There once was an abbot of Angers who went by the name of the first man ever. He could, it is said, out-drink any man in that village.

Eia, eia, eia sing we Let us sing to liberty.

No season or time was he without his wine. Each night would find him soaked and swaying like a tree in the wind.

Eia, eia, eia sing we

Yet his body seemed indestructable, his skin deep-hued with wine, as hides are tanned with myrrh, and drinks are bitterly spiced.

Eia, eia, eia sing we

Nor did he prefer the delicate cup from which to drink his evening meal.
For him, no goblet big enough; bring on the biggest pots and pans!

Eia, eia, eia sing we

Mark him well ye men of Angers, for if and when he leaves you, never again will there be seen such a stream of steady drinking!
